STUDENTS' REVIEW

Gleb (Belarus), Tourism & Hospitality program:

"From the very beginning of my studies, I was pleasantly surprised by the atmosphere of the university. The professors are true professionals in their field, possessing deep knowledge in the area of tourism and sharing their experience and practical skills. Classes were conducted at a high level, and I always felt supported by the faculty.

I particularly appreciated the practical classes and internships, which allowed me to apply theoretical knowledge in practice. This truly helped me to better understand the tourism industry and develop my skills".

Nida (Turkiye), Tourism & Hospitality program:

"I had wonderful time here. Coming from Istanbul, I didn't feel much of a cultural shock because the city had a lot in common with what I'm used to, making it an easy transition. I made some unforgettable memories, whether it was exploring new places or discovering different flavors that really stood out. The professors were not only highly qualified but also genuinely passionate about what they taught. They made a real effort to connect with students and provide meaningful support. Plus, the program gave me plenty of chances to build valuable networks with classmates and professionals, something I know will help me in the future

Overall, this program was the perfect mix of great education and personal growth, and I'll carry these experiences with me for a long time."

STUDENTS' REVIEW

Orlando (Italy), Archaeology program:

"Overall, my experience studying at the International University of Tourism and Cultural Heritage in Uzbekistan was incredibly positive. I returned home with new knowledge, skills, and experiences that will stay with me for a lifetime. I recommend this university to anyone interested in pursuing a career in archaeology, as it offers a quality education in an international environment while also emphasizing the importance of cultural heritage".

Kseniia (Russia), Museology, preservation, restoration and conservation of historical and cultural objects program:

"The knowledge I gained was invaluable, and what made it even better was learning how to apply it in real-world situations. The program didn't just focus on theory—it taught us how to turn what we were learning into practical skills. The international staff were not only knowledgeable but also incredibly supportive, especially when things got tough. Whether it was adjusting to a new environment or handling academic challenges, I always felt I had someone to turn to".
